

All-Inclusive Waste Management Solutions for Waste Collectors

Enterprise-grade software and technology that streamlines operations for waste collection companies servicing local authorities through a smart, modular approach.

An All-Inclusive Waste Management Solution for Waste Collectors

Take a strategic approach to your waste management operations with WasteHero's enterprise-grade solution consisting of software modules, apps, third-party system integrations and hardware add-ons.

Major challenges for waste collection companies

Managing waste collection for several Councils that utilise different systems that don't speak to each other results in manual workflows and fragmented collection of data. The potential value of data is untapped as it isn't gathered on a central platform. Local authorities are also demanding higher service levels whilst experiencing budget cuts for waste management operations, forcing collection companies to find a way to provide efficient and sustainable operations at a lower cost.

Integrated and optimized waste operations

WasteHero helps collection companies to provide optimized, data-driven operations to meet the demands of local authorities and their citizens. We seamlessly connect all stakeholders and waste activities together on one platform, whilst giving you the option to choose which systems you integrate, for full control over your work processes. Gather data in one central location to automate and optimize waste collection routes for smooth workflows and cost reductions across operations.

Aalborg Council has reduced their number of collections by 40%

The Danish Council of Aalborg partnered with WasteHero to digitalise their waste management process. Through optimised route planning on a central platform, they have alleviated manual processes and reduced their number of container collections by 40%.

With the help of WasteHero's software platform and apps, drivers, route planners, administrators and citizens communicate seamlessly to achieve efficient and sustainable operations.

" We have established a strong relationship with WasteHero as our software provider. They are helping us to investigate how we can use data to gain insight into our waste collection and optimise our collection processes based on that knowledge. "

Christian Møller Jensen, Technical Project Manager at Aalborg Council.
